| IV-The glossary of the Islamic Centre for Development of Trade: intra-OIC Trade and index terms    | 203  |

Foreword

Since its inception in 1983, the Islamic Centre for Development of Trade has made every effort to promote intra-OIC trade by carrying out several events falling within the scope of the mission assigned to it. Thus, ICDT has organized so far twelve trade fairs of the OIC Member States (OIC/EXPO); supply/demand workshops on products with high trade potential; training seminars in international trade and intra-OIC investment promotion and international market studies to develop trade among OIC Member States.

In implementation of the OIC relevant resolutions (Council of Foreign Ministers and of the COMCEC) relating to the publication by the Islamic Centre for Development of Trade of the Annual Report on Intra-OIC trade and statistics on the foreign trade of the OIC Member States and further to the Experts Group Meetings on Statistics of OIC Member States held in 2007 and 2009, ICDT has been entrusted with the task of collecting and disseminating information relating to the foreign trade of the OIC Member States and the analysis of the flows and trends and obstacles that hamper intra-OIC trade expansion.

Within this framework, the Islamic Centre for Development of Trade has worked out a report on “the Foreign Trade of the OIC Member States in Figures” for the 2000/2009 period so as to assess the major trends of intra-OIC trade. This manual is intended to the general public, economic operators and the researchers of the OIC Countries and will be updated each year.

It should be recalled in this respect, that ICDT has published since 27 years, reports on trade among the OIC Member States, which analyze the recent developments of overall and intra-OIC trade comprising also a chapter on “intra-OIC trade expansion: problems and prospects”, which takes stock of both obstacles to trade and the measures taken or to be taken in the future to facilitate intra-OIC trade.

This report is based on the data of the annual reports of ICDT, National Statistics, the UN COMTRADE, IFM statistics (DOTS), the WITS, the ITC, the WTO and the UNCTAD.

The report on the foreign trade of the OIC Member States in figures is divided into four parts:

- The first part gives an overview of the Organization of the Islamic Conference;
- The second part focuses on ICDT,
- The third part includes information for each Member State on the accession to the OIC, the WTO, membership to regional economic groupings, the state of play of signatures and ratifications of the TPS/OIC, PRETAS and the Rules of Origin, foreign trade, intra-OIC trade, the structures of the foreign trade and of intra-OIC trade and the main customers and suppliers;
- The fourth part comprises the glossary and terms used in the annual report on intra-OIC trade.

Mr. Allal RACHDI

Director General of ICDT

I. THE ORGANISATION OF THE ISLAMIC CONFERENCE IN BRIEF

THE ORGANISATION OF THE ISLAMIC CONFERENCE (O.I.C)

The Organization of the Islamic Conference (OIC) is the second largest inter-governmental organization after the United Nations which has membership of 57 states spread over four continents. The Organization is the collective voice of the Muslim world and ensuring to safeguard and protect the interests of the Muslim world in the spirit of promoting international peace and harmony among various people of the world. The Organization was established upon a decision of the historical summit which took place in Rabat, Kingdom of Morocco on 12th Rajab 1389 Hijra (25 September 1969).

In 1970 the first ever meeting of Islamic Conference of Foreign Minister (ICFM) was held in Jeddah which decided to establish a permanent secretariat in Jeddah headed by the organization's secretary general. Prof Ekmeleddin Ihsanoglu is the 9th Secretary General who assumed the office in January 2005 after being elected by the 31st ICFM.

The present Charter of the Organization was adopted by the Eleventh Islamic Summit held in Dakar on 13-14 March 2008 which laid down the objectives and principles of the organization and fundamental purposes to strengthen the solidarity and cooperation among the Member States. Over the last 38 years, the membership has grown from its founding members of 30 to 57 states. The Organization has the singular honor to galvanize the Ummah into a unified body and have actively represented the Muslims by espousing all causes close to the hearts of over 1.5 billion Muslims of the world. The Organization has consultative and cooperative relations with the UN and other inter-governmental organizations to protect the vital interests of the Muslims and to work for the settlement of conflicts and disputes involving Member States. In safeguarding the true values of Islam and the Muslims, the organization has taken various steps to remove misperceptions and have strongly advocated elimination of discrimination against the Muslims in all forms and manifestations.

The Member States of the OIC face many challenges in the 21st century and to address those challenges, the third extraordinary session of the Islamic Summit held in Makkah in December 2005, laid down the blue print called the Ten-Year Program of Action which envisages joint action of Member States, promotion of tolerance and moderation, modernization, extensive reforms in all spheres of activities including science and technology, education, trade enhancement, and emphasizes good governance and promotion of human rights in the Muslim world, especially with regard to rights of children, women and elderly and the family values enshrined by Islam.

Under the Charter, the Organization aims, inter alia, to:

- Enhance and consolidate the bonds of fraternity and solidarity among the Member States;
- Safeguard and protect the common interests and support the legitimate causes of the Member States and coordinate and unify the efforts of the Member States in view of the challenges faced by the Islamic world in particular and the international community in general;

- Respect the right of self-determination and non-interference in the domestic affairs and to respect sovereignty, independence and territorial integrity of each Member State;
- Ensure active participation of the Member States in the global political, economic and social decision-making processes to secure their common interests;
- Reaffirm its support for the rights of peoples as stipulated in the UN Charter and international law;
- Strengthen intra-Islamic economic and trade cooperation; in order to achieve economic integration leading to the establishment of an Islamic Common Market;
- Exert efforts to achieve sustainable and comprehensive human development and economic well-being in Member States;
- Protect and defend the true image of Islam, to combat defamation of Islam and encourage dialogue among civilizations and religions;
- Enhance and develop science and technology and encourage research and cooperation among Member States in these fields;

In order to realize these objectives, Member States shall act, inter alia, in accordance with the following principles:

- All Member States commit themselves to the purposes and principles of the United Nations Charter;
- Member States are sovereign, independent and equal in rights and obligations;
- All Member States shall settle their disputes through peaceful means and refrain from use or threat of use of force in their relations;
- All Member States undertake to respect national sovereignty, independence and territorial integrity of other Member States and shall refrain from interfering in the internal affairs of others;
- Member States shall uphold and promote, at the national and international levels, good governance, democracy, human rights and fundamental freedoms, and the rule of law.

The Organization is composed of the following main bodies:

The Islamic Summit, composed of Kings and Heads of State and Government of Member States, is the supreme authority of the Organization. It convenes once every three years to deliberate, take policy decisions and provide guidance on all issues pertaining to the realization of the objectives and consider other issues of concern to the Member States and the Ummah.

The Council of Foreign Ministers, which meets once a year, considers the means for the implementation of the general policy of the Organization by, inter alia:

- a. Adopting decisions and resolutions on matters of common interest in the implementation of the objectives and the general policy of the Organization;

b. Reviewing progress of the implementation of the decisions and resolutions adopted at the previous Summits and Councils of Foreign Ministers;

The General Secretariat, which is the executive organ of the Organization, entrusted with the implementation of the decisions of the two preceding bodies.

So far eleven Islamic Summit Conferences and 36 Councils of Foreign Ministers (CFM) have been held. The Eleventh Islamic Summit Conference held in Dakar on 13-14 March 2008 elected Senegal as the current Chairman of the Organization. The Secretary General of the Organization of the Islamic Conference, Professor Ekmeleddin Ihsanoglu, was re-elected for a new term of office at the closing meeting of the 11th Session of the Islamic Summit Conference. The new OIC Charter was adopted at the Dakar Summit. The Summit also witnessed the setting up of the Special Programme for the Development of Africa (SPDA).

In order to coordinate and boost its action, align its view points and stands, and be credited with concrete results in various fields of cooperation -political, economic, cultural, social, spiritual and scientific- among Member States, the Organization has created different committees, nearly all, at ministerial level, a number of which are chaired by Heads of State. The Al-Quds Committee, the Standing Committee for Information and Cultural Affairs (COMIAC), the Standing Committee for Economic and Trade Cooperation (COMCEC), and the Standing Committee for Scientific and Technological Cooperation (COMSTECH) are the ones Chaired by Heads of State.

The number and types of secondary organs and institutions, working toward the achievement of the OIC objectives, have been steadily increasing, and cover various areas of cultural, scientific, economic, legal, financial, sports, technological, educational, media, as well as vocational, social and humanitarian. Depending on their degree of autonomy vis-à-vis the parent organization, they are classified as subsidiary organs and specialized or affiliated institutions.

-The Subsidiary Organs are established within the framework of the Organization of the Islamic Conference in accordance with a resolution adopted by the Islamic Conference of Kings and Heads of State and Government or the Islamic Conference of Foreign Ministers. # IV. THE ISLAMIC CENTRE FOR DEVELOPMENT OF TRADE

IN BRIEF

In order to understand the Centre's missions the following information are essential and worth recalling:

The principle of setting up an Islamic Centre for Development of Trade is included in the General Agreement for Economic, Technical and Commercial Cooperation among the Member States of the Organisation of the Islamic Conference. This agreement which was open for signature by member States at the 8th Islamic Conference of Foreign Ministers held in Tripoli (Libya) from 27th Jumada I to 3rd Jumada II 1397 (16 - 22 May 1977), stipulates in its article 9, the Centre's "main task will be to promote and develop trade amongst Member States".

The Third Islamic Summit Conference held in Makkah Al Moukarramah from 19th to 22nd Rabi Al Awal 1401 (25 - 28 January 1981) adopted a resolution for setting up the Islamic Centre for Development of Trade which will be a subsidiary organ of the organisation of the Islamic Conference.

Finally, and since the creation the standing Committee for Economic and Commercial Cooperation among the OIC Member States (COMCEC) by the Fourth Summit held in Casablanca (Rabi Attani 1409 - January 1984) and the election of the Republic of Turkey as Chairman of this Committee, the role of ICDDT has become more important in so far a it has become the instrument on which the COMCEC relies to develop its action in the field of Inter-Islamic trade.

The Centre became operational shortly after the first Session of its Board of Directors held in Rabat in Safar 1403 (November 1982).

An Agreement on the setting up of the Islamic Centre for Development of Trade was concluded between the Organisation of the Islamic Conference and the Government of the Kingdom of Morocco. This Agreement was signed on 5th Safar 1403 (22nd November 1982 in Rabat).

IV- GLOSSARY OF THE ISLAMIC CENTRE FOR DEVELOPMENT OF TRADE:

INTRA-OIC TRADE AND INDEX TERMS

GLOSSARY OF THE ISLAMIC CENTRE FOR DEVELOPMENT OF TRADE:

INTRA-OIC TRADE AND INDEX TERMS

- Ad valorem equivalent (AVE) : is a tariff presented as a percentage of the value of goods cleared through customs. It is the equivalent of a corresponding specific tariff measure based on unit quantities such as weight, number or volume.
- Arab Maghreb Union States are: Algeria, Libya, Mauritania, Morocco and Tunisia.
- C.I.F : A trade term (Incoterm) meaning Cost, Insurance and Freight. A pricing term under which the seller pays all expenses involved in the placing of merchandise on board a carrier and in addition prepays the freight and insures the goods to an agreed destination.
- Certificate of Origin: A document in which certification is made as to the country of origin of the merchandise.
- Changes in Global Demand for Major Exports: The index of global demand changes is a constant market share analysis of export performance in a country due to the relative favorable or unfavorable changes in global demand prospects. It indicates how rapidly a country's recent exports would grow relative to world trade if the country just maintained its current market for these products. This approach isolates the influence of change in global demand for specific goods from any changes in the country's market shares or from diversification into new product lines (see formula).
- Export Diversification (or Concentration) Index : Export diversification is held to be important for developing countries because many developing countries are often highly dependent on relatively few primary commodities for their export earnings (see formula).
- Export Similarity Index: Many countries have an unusual pattern of export specialization in relation to the rest of the world. Often, some product exports, typically manufacturing, have grown more rapidly than the average of world exports. It is not clear however to what extent these results reflect a common tendency among countries and to what extent the results are driven by the performance of individual countries. The export similarity (XS) index provides useful information on distinctive export patterns from country to country (see formula).
- Exports : is a trade transaction of any good or service produced and transported from one country (supplier) to another country (customer) in a legitimate fashion, generally evaluated in US$ or in national currencies (goods and services) or in metric tons or kg (goods).

- F.O.B. : A trade term (Incoterm) meaning Free on Board, a pricing term under which the seller must deliver the goods on board the ship at the point named at his own expense.

- Food products: products gathered in the Standard International Trade Classification (SITC) in sections 0, 1 and 4 of one digit.

- Foreign trade of the OIC Member States is trade transactions relating to exports and imports of goods and services of all OIC Member Countries with the rest of the world in US$.

- Geographical concentration index or Herfindahl-Hirschmann Index defines geographical concentration degree (or diversification) is the squaring market share of the  $i$  country exports to the  $j$  country or region in the total exports of the country. It can be calculated for imports (see formula).

- Harmonized System (HS) : An international nomenclature for the classification of products. It allows participating countries to classify traded goods on a common basis for customs purposes. At the international level, the Harmonized System (HS) for classifying goods is a six-digit code system. The HS comprises approximately 5000 article/product descriptions that appear as headings and subheadings, arranged in 97 chapters, grouped in 21 sections. The six digits can be broken down into three parts. The first two digits (HS-2) identify the chapter the goods are classified in, e.g. 09 = Coffee, Tea, Maté and Spices. The next two digits (HS-4) identify groupings within that chapter, e.g. 09.02 = Tea, whether or not flavoured. The next two digits (HS-6) are even more specific, e.g. 09.02.10 Green tea (not fermented) in immediate packings of a content not exceeding 3 kg. Up to the HS-6 digit level, different countries classification codes are identical. Beyond this, countries are free to introduce national distinctions for tariffs by adding more digits to make the HS classification of products even more specific. This greater level of specificity is referred as the national tariff line level. It was developed by the World Customs Organization and the International Convention on the Harmonized System (HS Convention) entered into force on 1 January 1988 (HS88). It has been adopted by most trading nations. The HS In accordance with the preamble to the HS Convention, which recognized the importance of ensuring that HS be kept up to date in the light of changes in technology or in patterns of international trade, HS is regularly reviewed and revised. The headings and subheadings of HS are accompanied by interpretative rules, and section, chapter and subheading notes, which form an integral part of HS and are designed to facilitate classification decisions in general and to clarify the scope of the particular headings or subheadings. The most recent revision of the Harmonized System came into force on 1st January 2007. See <http://www.wcoomd.org>

- Manufactured Products: products gathered in the Standard International Trade Classification (SITC) in sections 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9 of one digit.

- Measures of revealed comparative advantage (RCA) have been used to help assess a country's export potential. The RCA indicates whether a country is in the process of extending the products in which it has a trade potential, as opposed to situations in which the number of products that can be competitively exported is static. The RCA index of country  $i$  for product  $j$  is often measured by the product's share in the country's exports in relation to its share in world trade (see formula).

- Member States of the Gulf Cooperation Council are: Bahrain, Kuwait, Oman, Qatar, Saudi Arabia and United Arab Emirates.

- Merchandise trade: Goods which add or subtract from the stock of material resources of a country by entering (imports) or leaving (exports) its economic territory. Goods simply being transported through a country (goods in transit) or temporarily admitted or withdrawn (except for goods for inward or outward processing). - NAMA: Negotiations on market access for non-agricultural products.

- NTBs: Non-Tariffs Barriers also called non tariff measures are measures other than high import duties (tariff) employed to restrict imports. Two such measures are (1) direct price influencers, such as export subsidies or drawbacks, exchange rate manipulations, methods of imports valuation, customs surcharges, lengthy customs procedures, establishment of minimum imports prices, countervailing and anti-dumping duties, "voluntary" export restraints, technical barriers to trade, unreasonable standards and inspection procedures, and (2) indirect price influencers, such as import licensing and import.

- Organization of the Islamic Conference (OIC): is an inter-governmental organization established upon a decision of the historical summit which took place in Rabat, Kingdom of Morocco on 12th Rajab 1389 Hijra (25 September 1969). It has a membership of 57 States spread over four continents and is the collective voice of the Muslim world and ensuring to safeguard and protect the interests of the Muslim world in the spirit of promoting strong, dynamic economic and social solidarity among the Member Countries.

- OIC Member States are: Afghanistan, Albania, Algeria, Azerbaijan, Bahrain, Bangladesh, Benin, Brunei, Burkina Faso, Cameroon, Chad, Comoros Islands, Côte d'Ivoire, Djibouti, Egypt, Gabon, Gambia, Guinea, Guinea-Bissau, Guyana, Indonesia, Iraq, Iran, Jordan, Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan, Kuwait, Lebanon, Libya, Malaysia, Maldives, Mali, Mauritania, Morocco, Mozambique, Niger, Nigeria, Oman, Pakistan, Palestine, Qatar, Saudi Arabia, Senegal, Sierra Leone, Somalia, Sudan, Suriname, Syria, Tajikistan, Togo, Tunisia, Turkmenistan, Turkey, Uganda, United Arab Emirates, Uzbekistan, and Yemen.

- OIC Member States of Asia are: Afghanistan, Azerbaijan, Bangladesh, Brunei, Indonesia, Iran, Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan, Malaysia, Maldives, Uzbekistan, Pakistan, Tajikistan, Turkmenistan which we added Guyana and Suriname.

- OIC Member States Trade in goods is a global exports and imports of goods and services of the OIC Member States.

- OIC Member States trade in services: it means global transactions of the OIC Member relating to services debits and credits.

- PRETAS: Preferential Tariff Scheme of the Trade Preferential System of the OIC Member States.

- Primary products : products gathered in the Standard International Trade Classification (SITC) in sections 0, 1, 2, 3 and 4 of one digit.

- Quantitative restrictions at import level: they concern import quotas, import prohibitions, voluntary limitations of exports and import licenses systems.

- Re-exports: Re-exports are exports of foreign goods in the same state as previously imported; they are to be included in the country exports. They are also recommended to be recorded separately for analytical purposes, which may require the use of supplementary sources of information in order to determine the origin of re-exports, i.e., to determine that the goods in question are indeed re-exports rather than the export of goods that have acquired domestic origin through processing.

- Regional Preference Index by product of exports is the share of intra-OIC exports of the product  $x$  of an OIC Member State in its total exports in comparison with the total exports of the OIC Member Countries of the product  $x$  in the OIC Member States global exports (see formula).

- Regional Preference Index by product of imports is the share of intra-OIC imports of the product  $x$  of an OIC Member State in its total imports in comparison with the total imports of the OIC Member Countries of the product  $x$  in the OIC Member States global imports (see formula).

- Re-imports: Re-imports are goods imported in the same state as previously exported; they are to be included in the country imports. They are also recommended to be recorded separately for analytical purposes, which may require the use of supplementary sources of information in order to determine the origin of re-imports, i.e., to determine that the goods in question are indeed re-imports rather than the import of goods that have acquired foreign origin through processing.

- Relative Growth Rates of Merchandise Exports and Imports ( $G_I$ ): This indicator is used to compare growth rates of exports and imports of broad classes of goods in one country with those for world trade or the trade of its competitors, including the major products in exports and imports (see formula).

- Technical Barriers to Trade (TBTs): they refer to technical regulations, minimum standards and certification systems for health, safety and environmental protection and to enhance the availability of information about products, which may result in the erection of technical barriers to trade. TBTs are mainly caused by differential application of technical regulations, standards and certification systems between domestic and foreign suppliers, although the fact that such regulations, standards and certification systems differ across countries may in itself be a barrier to trade.

- TINIC: Trade Information Network for Islamic Countries established since 1996 by ICDT in the following website (www.icdt-oic.org).

- TPS/OIC: Trade Preferential System among the OIC Member States.

- Trade Complementarity Index: it provides useful information on prospects for intraregional trade in that it shows how well the structures of a country's imports and exports match. It also has the attraction that its values for countries considering the formation of a regional trade agreement can be compared with others that have formed or tried to form similar arrangements (see formula).

- Trade Intensity Index (T) is a synthetic index which allows capturing the trade dependence degree vis-à-vis a country or region. It is a share of a country or region exports to OIC Countries in comparison with its total exports in its intra-OIC imports in the total imports of the OIC Member States (see formula).

- Trade Potential: it was calculated via the gravity model (see formula) based on the idea that gross trade volumes (exports, imports) between two countries depend on the sizes of the two countries for example their GDP, distances, areas, bilateral or multilateral agreements, and languages.

-Export Specialization Index: The export specialization (ES) index is a slightly modified RCA index, in which the denominator is usually measured by specific markets or partners. It provides product information on revealed specialization in the export sector of a country and is calculated as the ratio of the share of a product in a country's total exports to the share of this product in imports to specific markets or partners rather than its share in world exports (see formula).

-Index of the Standardized Trade Balance is an index relating to difference between exports of the  $i$  country to  $J$  country and imports  $i$  country from the  $j$  country in the global trade between the two countries  $i$  and  $j$  (see formula).

-Intra-OIC exports are exports of goods and services realized between OIC Member States in US$.

-Tariff escalation: Higher import duties on semi-processed products than on raw materials, and higher still on finished products. This practice protects domestic processing industries and discourages the development of processing activity in the countries where raw materials originate.

-Tariff quota: is a quantitative threshold (quota) on imports above which a higher tariff is applied. The lower tariff rate applies to imports within the quota.

-Tariff: is a tax imposed on a good imported into a country. A tariff may be specific, when it is levied as a fixed sum per unit of the imported good, or ad valorem, when it is applied at a percentage rate with reference to the value of the import.

-Trade Balance: is the difference between exports and imports of goods and services in US$.

-Trade balance: is the difference between the monetary value of exports and imports of output in an economy over a certain period.

-World exports/imports: World export (import) volumes are calculated by aggregating measures of the volume of exports (imports) of individual countries on a constant price basis (US$ or tons).

The ES is similar to the RCA in that the value of the index less than unity indicates a comparative disadvantage and a value above unity represents specialization in this market.  | World Bank | Percentage |
| Export Diversification (or Concentration) Index or IHH | DX | DX<sub>j</sub> = <math>(\sum  h_{ij} - x_i ) / 2</math>Where $h_{ij}$ is the share of commodity $i$ in the total exports of country $j$ and $h_i$ is the share of the commodity in world exports.   | World Bank | Percentage |

The index varies between zero and 100, with zero indicating complete dissimilarity and 100 representing identical export composition. This measure is subject to aggregation bias (as the data are more finely disaggregated, the index will tend to fall) and hence embodies a certain arbitrariness due to product choice. | World Bank | Percentage |

The index is zero when no goods are exported by one country or imported by the other and 100 when the export and import shares exactly match.   | World Bank | Percentage |
